

CALL FOR PAPERS

Invitation to GLoCALL 2021 presenters to submit papers to two special issues on CALL and the use of Technologies for Teaching and Learning

Introduction

The GLoCALL 2021 committee would like to invite those who presented at GLoCALL 2021 Virtual Conference to consider submitting a manuscript for inclusion in the following two scholarly journals.

Objective

The Recent GLoCALL 2021 Virtual Conference was jointly organized by the Pacific Association for Computer Assisted Language Learning (PacCALL), and HELP University, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia from 16th-18th December 2021. The conference shared knowledge, skills, and ideas on the integration of technologies and language learning in the forms of workshops, plenary sessions, paper presentations, symposia and colloquiums.

Recommended Topics

We invite papers on topics relevant (not limited) to the following:

- application of technology to the language classroom
- localizing Internet materials to the classroom
- using the Internet for cultural exchange
- managing multimedia/hypermedia environments
- e-learning, collaborative learning, and blended learning
- emerging technologies
- fostering autonomous learning through technology
- training language teachers in e-learning environments
